Supervisor Burke made the following statement:

“The Honduran-American community makes valuable contributions for the benefit of all residents in the County of Los Angeles. Through their hard work and dedication, Honduran-Americans in the County exert great leadership in a multitude of areas including education, economic development, public policy and athletics. As a newer immigrant group, Honduran-Americans have quickly adapted to the customs and traditions of the United States while enriching American diversity with their own history, fine arts, cuisine, dance and other cultural contributions.

“As a leader in the area of diversity, it is imperative that the County of Los Angeles continue to support the Honduran-American community in their quest for greater assimilation, while simultaneously recognizing their contributions and advances in the United States.”

Therefore, on motion of Supervisor Burke, seconded by Supervisor Knabe, unanimously carried (Supervisors Molina and Yaroslavsky being absent), the Board joined the Honduran-American community’s nationwide celebration by declaring October 3, 2007 as “Honduran-American Day” (“el Dia del Hondureno-Americano”) throughout Los Angeles County; and commended “Hondurenos Unidos Los Angeles” for its outstanding work and dedication in assisting Honduran immigrants in their quest for assimilation in the United States, while contributing to the rich cultural diversity benefiting all residents throughout Los Angeles County.
